If they still exist, remove them manually. The app makes installing CM relatively painless, condensing the whole process down to just a few button clicks. The downside is that not every Android device is supported by the installer. /Applications- Citrix Receiver.app /Library - /Internet plug-ins/CitrixICAClientPlugIn.plugin - /LaunchAgents/com.citrix.AuthManager_Mac.plist - /LaunchAgents/com.citrix.ServiceRecords.plist /Users/Shared - /Citrix/Receiver Integration (entire folder) ~/Library - /Internet plug-ins/CitrixICAClientPlugIn.plugin - /Application Support/Citrix Receiver - CitrixID - Config - Module - /Preferences/com.citrix.receiver.nomasp.plist - /Preferences/com.citrix.receiver.nomasp.lockfile - /Preferences/com.citrix.ReceiverFTU.AccountRecords.plist (added in 11.6) ~/Applications - Under this folder, you can delete any applications you previously added via the Receiver UI. Secondary method: logging in via the web. Navigate in your web browser to: Depending on your browser settings, the file may download without showing you this dialog box. A few versions of the original Galaxy Note and Galaxy S2 won't work on the Mac, but everything else should work just as well. Also of note, CyanogenMod isn't a recognized Mac developer, so you'll need to turn off Gatekeeper to run the app the first time. Hopefully future versions won't have the same requirement. If you have a Mac and a supported device, have at it. Drag userhome > Library > Preferences > Citrix ICA Client into the trash. For example, ~/Library/Preferences/ refers to the Preferences folder within the user's Library folder (e.g. /Users/Library/Preferences/). If your password exceeds this age limit, you need to change your Kerberos password. If you have older versions of Citrix software installed, such as Citrix Receiver or Citrix ICA Client, you can remove them with these steps. Using Citrix to access applications from your Mac Primary method: using Citrix Workspace directly Launch Citrix Workspace from your /Applications folder. Click the folder and then select the CitrixWorkspaceApp.dmg file. Drag Applications > Citrix ICA Client folder into the trash. Note: this will take you to Citrix's website to download the latest installer. If it exists, move it to the Trash. Or are you disappointed your phone isn't supported? When prompted, open Install Citrix Workspace. Once installed, continue with Using Citrix to access applications from your Mac. Follow Me Data Notes In version 11.6, the Follow Me Data feature is integrated into the Citrix Receiver for Mac. The files and folders that are compatible with this feature are listed. You can remove the files that were not properly cleaned up by the uninstaller. You can also keep the user data that was previously synchronized on your system by Follow Me Data. It is important to remember that certain items mentioned in this article might not exist on your system depending on the Receiver version(s) you previously installed. If you're device isn't supported, there are other, more complicated ways to get custom ROMs on your phone from a Mac if you have the time. Is this the release you've been waiting for? On a Mac computer, the .dmg file appears in the Mac Downloads folder. The CyanogenMod installer is finally available for the Mac, giving Apple fans an easier way to install at least one custom ROM onto their Android devices. CyanogenMod Installer for Mac is currently in beta, so it may still have a few bugs, but it beats having to borrow a friend's Windows PC or using Boot Camp to easily install the ROM. A path without a tilde refers to the system-wide version of that folder at the root of the system (e.g. /Library/Preferences/). When prompted to authenticate, enter your Kerberos username (the portion of your MIT email address before the @mit.edu) and password. Result: Applications available from the MIT Citrix servers are displayed. Drag Applications > Citrix Receiver.app into the trash. Note that certain folders mentioned in the list can be hidden directories on the system. Enter your Kerberos password (password used to check your MIT email). If prompted, choose to Save the installer. Click Continue and follow the instructions provided by the Citrix Workspace Installer. /private/var/db/receipts - com.citrix.ICAClient.bom - com.citrix.ICAClient.plist Important Notes A tilde (~) placed at the beginning of a folder path refers to that folder's location within the user profile. Install Citrix Workspace Client for Mac Download the Citrix Workspace client for Mac, available from the; Citrix Workspace and click Download. Sadly, phones such as the LG G2 aren't supported by the installer. Click the icon for your selected application. See: VPN at MIT Related Links Prefab Email for use by BH team See Also Have Questions or Still Need Help? Enter your Kerberos username (portion of your MIT email address before the @mit.edu). Contact the IS&T Service Desk After uninstalling the Receiver and rebooting the system, ensure that the files or folders listed in this section have been removed from your system. On this page: You may need to change your Kerberos password To use Citrix, your Kerberos password cannot be more than three years old. With the Citrix Workspace client successfully installed, you should see the Citrix StoreFront logon prompt. The following locations should be cleaned up after running the uninstaller utility: - ~/Applications/Citrix/FollowMeData (this is a hidden folder that contains the application binary) - ~/Library/Application Support/ShareFile (contains user specific configurations) - /Library/PreferencePanes/FMDSysPrefPane.prefPane Installation information files that are okay to remove after uninstall: - /private/var/db/receipts/com.citrix.ShareFile.installer.plist - com.citrix.ShareFile.installer.bom If you are Unable to find the Citrix Workspace App running on your MAC and if you want to forcefully quit Press Cmd + Alt + Escape to see the Force Quit Applications menu. This will show running apps, and lets you force-quit them if necessary - just highlight the Citrix WorkSpace App and click Force Quit. The supported devices list contains Nexus devices like the Nexus 5, Samsung devices including the Galaxy S4, and the HTC One are all supported by the installer. Most phones that work with the Windows version of the installer will work on the Mac app. Note for off-campus users To access applications via Citrix from off-campus locations or from a private subnet, you will need to connect to the MIT VPN (Virtual Private Network) before connecting to Citrix. Check if the following folder exists: Macintosh HD > Library > Preferences > Citrix ICA Client. When prompted to add an account, enter citrixapps.mit.edu.
