All you need is the braking capacity of three strands and a tear, cord or rope to tie the base. Follow the hairdresser and director of Education for Neuma. Tips from Gina Scipioni: First, reasense the hair in a ponytail in the clouds and hold with a elastic. "So, stop the hair and separate it into three equal sections." "Be aware of keeping every strand without entangled with Neumy Neusty. NeustyLing's software ($ 10) while working and labels three wires 1, 2, 3 (or left, medium, right) to facilitate to accompany. " " Begin by picking up the strand closest to your dominant hand and cross it between the other two wires. Now is the new hand chain. " "Repeat this, starting with the ribbon on the opposite side. Every time, alternate sides. Go through the outer slope on top of the hand chain." "Remember, the brake will begin to look like a chain of hearts when it completed correctly." 02 of 30 Jeff spicer / BFC / Getty Images This hairstyle takes its look from every day for the night - ready in seconds. First, take good care of your hair. "Keep Hydrated and Detached Hair Practicing Good Wash Day and Style Style Routines using suitable style products (if hair is curly, use the Loc / LCO). Sarah Sango specialist in Afro hair specialists. "Use correct style tools such as wide-teeth combs and entanglement teelees as well as satin or silk pillowcases and hoods to help preserve styles." Brush your hair behind the ear, so it's soft and elegant. Add a trio (or more) from Bobby Pins into a variety of colors. "Take good care while putting the decorative bobby pins in the hair; wear claws that will keep the barrets in place; gently remove the grips without pulling or breaking your hair, and make sure all pins have sealed tips to avoid Snagging," says Sango. 03 of 30 Gregg Dequiere i pictures are not a fan of the pattern and looking for something a little fun? Tessa Thompson makes the case of a ripe version of Pigtail braids. It repeats the braid of three strands from the number 1, this time creating braids. Leave some hair ties to frame your face. Style your edges if you want, using a product like Kimble Edge Pomade tamping ($ 13). 04 of 30 ROSDIANA CIARAVOLO IR SCOPEBORGERU / GETTY Images This impressive style ponytail takes your daily gaze from zero to 100. It's like pulling it: Pull the front of your hair back to a half-ponytail and start torching it as if you're putting hair on a bunch. After creating a loop, the rest of the hair through the bread and secure it, leaving leaving Rest of the long and loose ponytail. Finish with a buckle or staple for extra fresh dots. 05 of 30 Steve Granitz / Getty Images This easy haircut can tame rebellious coils while making them look even more beautiful. The SCipioni accompanying board for the perfect half-up / half-down: "a great tip to take in consideration is to look at the shape and structure of the face, as well as decide whether or not your ears are seen or hidden. " "These two factors can make or break the style and see a minimalist chic boho to rock 'n' roll with just a few simple changes." "ITA a great idea to try new styles half up before with the intent To use them, so it is easy to make small modifications that help the best features really shine. " 06 of 30 This look involves the same ethics as the tape loop, but with a little more highlight. "For a sheet, it is important to think about the look that you are going to. I love movies and I always think about the 1960s, when Elizabeth Taylor wore tears. He folded them tied as a head Á a node on the nape of the neck, so chic, "says stylist celebrity Ted Gibson. To get this look, simply curl up and tie a bandana or silk tear around your ponytail and leave the rest loose. "Test OK" from using SCipioni to check if the sheet is a good size: "If the sheet is very thick to fit through the hole made by the pointer and the thumb, as when making the ok sign With the hand, then it Á é is usually very thick to use in the hairstyle. " 07 of 30 Fishtail braids awesome, but they are noisier to make than most. Follow our simple instructions on how to make a fish tail: "Use a product like Shooting Star Texture Meringue ($ 52) in wet hair to create your braid this will help you have control over hair so that it You can look precise and cool," says Gibson. Brush your hair to one side and start the braid. As with # 1, you can protect your hair into a ponytail, for more ease, or keep it free for a less polished look. Sleeping the hair in two sets, crossing pieces to what tight, appearance fish tail. Then loose weave from the braid, pulling it away with fingers or backcombing. Secure the bottom of the braid. 08 of 30 ROSDIANA CIARAVOLO IR SCOPEBORGERU / GETTY Images Dominated Horse Rabo Bass? Intensify a notch, adding a thin-style-style track to the top of the head, as seen here in the Groeneveld Daphne model in a fashion 2019 show queue. 09 of 30 Use the same technique as # 6, but with a large arc to the end (like this style, created by hair Queen Kristin ESS). "When they call long hair with a bow, a good rule of gold is the biggest bow, lowering it should go," says SCIPIONI. "This is a great reminder that a large bow that sits on top of the head can create a child appearance - however, however, a large arch at the base of the style adds a touch of style and elegance with A touch of flirt ". 10 of 30 Give your hair a sport-meets-avant-garde style with this high-fashioned horse's tail. Here, the hair is protected in two places with a mini braid adding interest to the back. See the stylist Tutorial Mane Addicts' Sienree: Clean and dry hair prep with an oil as Olaplex No. 7 Bonding Oil ($ 28) and brush completely. You can also use a corrugation iron to create a wave if you want to change your texture. Fix the ponytail on the neck of the neck using a hair lace elastic rope like these from kitsch ($ 7). Wrap a small ponytail hair pit around the ponytail base to hide the cable and use a clip to keep it in place. Then take a piece of hair from the top of the ponytail. Wrap around the base of the ponytail and two Then pass the pieces of hair through the loop. Continue weaving the hairstyle around and through the hair. This will create a half-sleeved half cuff. For a smooth look like this, use a serum for mancos flyaways, and do not forget to use over-the-top earrings. 11 of 30 You may have seen that tiaras are back in the business, but also love the digital influencer look and model model Dang Khanh Nguyen created using a head sheet. It is also the perfect way to disguise greasy roots. Win-win. 12 of 30 "to get fake bangs that you can go to any wig store to get them. The trick is trying to make them look real. I like a ponytail look with them," says Gibson. That said, if you have enough length, you can fake bangs with your hair. It works especially well in super-key textures. Just make a ponytail inverse with the hair falling forward on the forehead instead of going back to the neck of the neck. You can add a sheet or headband to make the pseudo-bangs look more real. 13 of 30 OK, so this is the easiest updating ever hair. Give Zendaya's suggestion and turn the particularly dramatic birth when you have loose, blown waves, as seen here. "A fantastic way to achieve a large bouncy blowout that lasts is to set it up! Start the set by washing and conditioning your hair. (I recommend ColorProof Superplump Volumizing Shampoo, $ 68, and conditioner, $ 34.), "says Scipioni. "Gently towel erase the hair to leave the excess water and untangle with a wet brush." Scipioni recommends the Wet Brush Detangler ($ 7). "Begin the dry blow with a brush, and D. T forget the nozzle concentrator on the dryer. This helps to reduce the rippling and flyaways. Slowly brush your hair while drying the drying blow to 70 percent water from this. " "Now, hairless hair with a blowout no flies root tips, and itams time to start the round brush. Be sure to raise the tall hair above your natural fall To ensure that the anti-gravity appearance will remain intact. " "As every Hair Section is being finished brushed-round, spray a hair spray and then roll the hair down on herself towards the scalp for Opinion with an old fashioned roller set. " "When the hair cools, I gently remove clips or staples from the bottom working to the top." "Enjoy a lightweight from a light spray to provide flexible fixing and improved glow." She likes Neuma é s Neuvolume Blow Out Mist ($ 27). 14 of 30 Edward Berthelot, / Contributor, / Getty Images is a classic for a reasons. The confusing buna where hair is stacked on top of the head, and casually arranged é always looks great. "It's always about the right texture in the bread. It's important to know if you want him to be spoken or thrown down. A little straightening is more chic and sophisticated," says Gibson. Give a suggestion of model and smooth hair for back, leaving some loose wicks. 15 of 30 The longer hair, more space you have to play! We love this occasional cool tailed ponytail. Check out this tutorial for a Pigtail version of this style: Hair is divided into two equal parts. Hold with a small elastic in mandal fence height.knot a lock of hair around the base of the first pigtail and continue weaving down until you stay without hair, then arrest with another tie.add hair more elÁ Sticas several inches down, pulling the hair on both sides of the pigtail out, to create an effect.If bubble you have enough hair, repeat the tie up steps from above, adding a multi-inch elastic finala from bottom.repeat by another pigtail. 16 of 30 This is a confused super-dimensioned (still polished) twisted coke in the form of a nautilus shell. "What I love about this aspect is that he is not perfect. He looks cool and does not look very hard. Thaths the hair importance now," says Gibson. 17 of 30 similar to the tailed braids, this bubble ponytail by the stylist Justine Marjan is even simpler to withdraw. Follow your tutorial: Add a layer of hair spray to some Hold light and texture, brush back to a ponytail. Gift A beautiful hair loop or scrunchie.spritz Little lacquer on the bristles of a toothbrush and run on the crown of the head to control flyaways.Brush the ponytail, teasing a little on the base. Continue Adding Laist Hair for every few inches down the ponytail, pulling the sides between each to add volume. 18 of 30 Edward Berthelot / Getty Images A Scrunchie Silk Soft Macª Twice around a ponytail low is all you need for an attractive style in ultra-long, straight yarns. "Make sure that there is enough product for Scrunchie Hold Hair," says Sango. "Scrunchies are good to use to decorate cakes and pineapple styles." 19 of 30 fake a Bob for folding the ends of his hair in a wider neck or sweater, like a high collar. This is probably not going to work so well if you have hair that descends to your butt. 20 of 30 Pans of space are one of the 90's reminiscence that the remains eternally cool. This half-up style is completely modern. Scipioni tracking tips for the appearance: "Start evenly distributing the texturizer-size on the tip of the fingers and then in half up to the hair as a way to maintain flyaways, curl, and piles from the baby in its place." She loves Neira Neustyling texturizer ($ 25). "Create the spatial half-up as two high braids using the elastic minutes." "In the last lace, wrapping the elastic only pulling the hair through about a third of the way. " "So, with the rest of the thread that was not pulled through, wrap it around or braid it around the fleece." "To ensure these ends, use another elastic miniature or two crossed clips at the base of the beads. This support will come will help for your fashion spatial cakes, so they do not go to go flat not It matters where in you é universe re tortuum! " 21 of 30 Edward Berthelot / Getty Images Similar to # 18, this style employs a large-dimensional barret to collect all the hair at the neck of the neck. If you have straight, curly or wavy hair, you will want to add a little texturizer or gel to ensure the clip does not slide around. 22 of 30 Edward Berthelot, / Getty Images Cortina Bangs are all over cutting, and they are less maintenance than other fringe styles when done correctly. You can always dry them to make sure you were right on the forehead. 23 of 30 Frazer Harrison / Getty Images Curly hair is attractive enough to be a style all over the owner. We love Rihanna's long spirals paired with a part of the middle of fashion. "Long, curly hair can definitely have their challenges, but here are some tips pr considering," says Scipioni: "Start with preparing your hair, distinguishing, and heat protecting it with a moisturizing spray like ColorProof PowderFix volume Instant Texture Spray ($ 25), which could be a splitter of waters since curly hair has a natural tendency for extra hydration. " "When refreshing second or third bunches, to reach a non-blowout on once it adds palpable texture and defining curls even without the heat addiction." "With a good amount of water in the hair, apply [Neuma] Neustyling Gelee ($ 25) freedom, starting with about a size room or more when needed. It will give great leap and flexibility to Wave patterns and adds a nice natural glow. " "When taking care of curls at night, pulling long waves, curls, and coils on the pillow at night away from the face and neck, where they will get crushed during sleep can actually save time restyling the next day. " "Finally, having the time to know your wave pattern will make a great difference in your capacity of style and re-style much easier to go with the flow of your curls than the nature fight itÁ é S: Embrace what I have! " 24 of 30 Samir Hussein / Getty Images Adding Some Small Brake Face-of-framing around the face is a simple way to give your look a 60s vibe. Tmlier braids can be left aside, without elacts, for an elegant, polished effect. "I can not emphasize enough to do it alone appearance is the coolest," says Gibson. "Don- t think you made a game With textures, play with shapes. "25 of 30 This twisted twist in the harvesters Bun Classical Ballerina from the colorful clips of # 2 with an up do. If it goes or not to opt for a Air First or stick with a simple version of this style, Sango recommends the use of a hair donut to get the perfect shape. 26 Coke of 30 Priyanka Chopra Jonas is similar to # 25, but with a placement Higher EE Central part in front. Both details add even more polish. 27 of 30 This beautiful torch (similar to Nautilus) looks complicated, but we promise that it is not.
